

Victoria Beckert, Watercolorist

Victoria Beckert has studied many different art mediums but has a passion for watercolors.

She has shown her work, locally, at the BAFFA Art Gallery, Islip Arts Council, Patchogue Art Space, Art League of Long Island and the Stony Brook Long Island Museum. She is a member of various art groups such as Islip Arts Council, Southampton Artists, Wet Paints Studio Group, East End Arts Council & Women Sharing Art.

Victoria has donated her artwork, "Musical Notes," to the Islip Arts Council for use in their publicity for their annual Jazz Festival and artwork for a poster for LI2Day Walk for Breast Cancer. She is on the Board of Directors of Women Sharing Art, Inc. a not-for-profit group of women artists who give annual student scholarships to upcoming young artists from our local schools.

Victoria teaches watercolor in workshops held throughout Long Island and in her home studio.

The Long Island Maritime Museum is looking forward to presenting a series of Victoria's watercolor workshops here at the Museum. These five-session workshops will be held on the Museum grounds or in our library, and will last two and a half hours each day, including lunch. You will be returning home after each session with a completed watercolor sketch.

Start looking at the world around you in a fresh, new way!
